Course title

Master 2 Applied Intellectual Property Law

Target audience

Professionals working in the field of intellectual property, or those looking to move into the field.

Prerequisites

This course is open to professionals who have completed an M1 in law or political science or who have legal experience.

An excellent level of English (written, read and spoken) is required, as well as a good command of digital communication tools, particularly the zoom platform. An initial introduction to intellectual property law would be an advantage.

Foreign professionals, whether or not they are nationals of the European Union, must meet conditions equivalent to those listed above.

Admission requirements

Admission to this program is by application. An individual interview may also be required if necessary.

Course objectives

The 'Applied Intellectual Property Law' course is offered as continuing education and is aimed at professionals who wish to enhance their professional experience in the field of intellectual property, diversify their activities in this area or focus their career on this field. The aim is also to provide company directors with skills in all areas of intellectual property that their previous studies have not provided them with.

The primary objective of the course is to enable participants to acquire and master high-level skills in this branch of law.

The aim is that, by the end of their training, they will have acquired the following skills in particular:

- Analyze complex situations, including international ones, involving intangible assets and intellectual property rights
- Identify intellectual property rights.
- Defining strategies and ensuring the legal protection of intellectual creations, works, inventions, trademarks, designs and other intellectual property.
- Advising on intellectual property matters
- Drawing up and negotiating agreements in the field of intellectual property, including technology transfers
- Defending intellectual property rights.

Program

The program consists of:

- 4 days of in-person training from October 6 to 9, 2026.
- Synchronous online classes held from October 14, 2026, to June 17, 2027.
- A week of oral exams and thesis defenses held remotely from June 21 to 25, 2027

The complete training schedule is available in the appendix.

Duration and timetable

Duration: 257h

Online courses take place between 5pm and 8pm (Paris time) to adapt to the pace of professionals.
